Grupo Cortefiel collaborates with the Juan XXIII Foundation

The Cortefiel Group has reached an agreement with the Juan XXIII Foundation for the destruction of confidential documents throughout its network of stores.

The Juan XXIII Foundation is a non-profit making organisation that works for the integration of the disabled in society and on the labour market.

This initiative is further proof of the Group's commitment to projects aimed at boosting the employability of these groups, thereby allowing for their effective integration onto the labour market.

The contract, which comes into effect in March, includes the removal and certified destruction of all confidential documents for the Group's 819 stores in Spain.

Grupo Cortefiel is a leading fashion retail company, conformed by 4 main brands, Cortefiel, Pedro del Hierro, Springfield, and women'ssecret, and has a network of 1.590 stores throughout 60 countries.
